

Program-Level Results

The results from the 2023 Parent Satisfaction Survey provide unique insights into how families feel about and perceive their child care program. We are committed to using the feedback to better serve the families enrolled in our program as a part of a continuous improvement cycle. An executive summary of consolidated data (across all RisingOaks Early Learning locations) is available at: <https://risingoaks.ca/parent-survey>

This includes a broader look at the four foundations, communication, program statement goals and feedback on our diversity, equity, inclusion and anti-racism initiatives. Below are summaries of the program-specific results for our centre, including strengths, opportunities for improvement, and next steps that we will take in 2023-24.

Strengths of our program

In reviewing our scores and comments, the following areas of strength have been identified:

- Children are provided with a variety of ways to explore nature, both indoors and out.
- Educators cultivate a caring relationships and string connections, recognizing what makes each child and family unique and valuing our differences.
- Learning environments expand on the children's interests and abilities.
- Educators provide a "personal touch", addressing each family's individual needs.

Opportunities to enhance our program

In reviewing our scores and comments, the following have been identified as areas for enhancement:

- Our program would benefit from more opportunities to explore diversity.
- Sharing of parenting tips and useful resources with families should happen more consistently.

Program learnings and next steps

- Collectively, educators will create opportunities to explore the diversity of our families and children. As families enter the program, they will be asked to fill out an "About our Family" worksheet for the educators to reference and possibly post. We will commit to having one family social highlight the diversity and unique attributes of our families.
- Educators will strive to share resources and parenting tips that are helpful to families. This may be done through a Parent Board at the centre, via e-mail, through our monthly e-news or individually with a family. We will aim to share at least one new tip per month.

Program comments

We would like to thank all of the families who took the time to complete our 2023 Parent Satisfaction Survey sent out in families in May 2023. You have provided us with valuable information that will help us to implement positive changes to our programs.

We also thank you for recognizing what we are doing well, and sharing in our successes.

The survey has been shared with educators as we will all work together to enhance our programs moving forward. Children and families remain our priority as we aim to meet the needs of all families enrolled at RisingOaks Early Learning | St. Luke.

We appreciate all of your feedback.
