Program-Level Results

The results from the 2024 Parent Satisfaction Survey provide unique insights into how families feel about and perceive their child care program. We are committed to using the feedback to better serve the families enrolled in our program as a part of a continuous improvement cycle. An executive summary of consolidated data (across all RisingOaks Early Learning locations) is available at: <https://risingoaks.ca/parent-survey>

This includes a broader look at the four foundations, communication, program statement goals and feedback on our diversity, equity, inclusion and anti-racism initiatives. Below are summaries of the program-specific results for our centre, including strengths, opportunities for improvement, and next steps that we will take in 2024-25.

Strengths of our program

In reviewing our scores and comments, the following areas of strength have been identified:

- The educators value and respect differences in beliefs, values and culture among families in the child care program
- The program my child is in has had a positive impact on my family's day-to-day life.
- The educators provide learning experiences that build on my child's abilities and interests.
- My child is given opportunities to explore nature in a variety of ways, both indoors and outdoors

Opportunities to enhance our program

In reviewing our scores and comments, the following have been identified as areas for enhancement:

- Sharing parenting tips and providing resources that are helpful for our families
- The documentation and communication from the educators help me to understand how and what my child is learning.

Program learnings and next steps

- In developing our 2024/25 Continuous Quality Improvement Plan for the Region of Waterloo, the results from this survey will be used as the foundation in creating the focus for the plan
- Educators in all programs will focus on communication with parents that highlights the children's experiences, engagement and the learning that is occurring. This will be done through posted documentation both in and out of the classroom, conversations and Digibot stories or daily logs
- Families will be encouraged to regularly review and participate in adding to their children's portfolio. Providing opportunities to ask questions, sharing experiences and comment on learning and development. Through this participation from families the educators hope to gain knowledge on what types of resources or parenting tips are helpful to them.

Program comments

We would like to thank all the families who took the time to complete our 2024 Parent Satisfaction Survey sent out to families May 27, 2024. You have provided us with valuable information that will help us to implement positive changes to our programs.

We also thank you for recognizing what we are doing well and sharing in our successes.

The survey was shared with educators as we will all work together to enhance our programs moving forward. Children and families remain our priority as we aim to meet the needs of all families enrolled at RisingOaks Early Learning | St. Nicholas.

We appreciate all your feedback!
